Pickard Will Enlarge Plant Facilities Here

Plan Removal of Decorating Studios from Chicago to Antioch Soon

The advantages of a more unified manufacturing system, better living conditions for workers and more favorable working conditions for workers have been advanced by Pickard, Inc., as reasons for the contemplated removal of their decorating studios from Chicago to Antioch, with contingent expansion of the plant here at a total cost of $25,000.

The company has for the past three years conducted experimental work in the manufacture of fine chinaware here, at an outlay of about $30,000, and it has now reached the stage where it feels that its own manufacturers can hold their own in quality with imported ware from Europe or the Orient.

Plan New Kiln

The expansion plans call for construction of a new kiln at an expense of $18,000. C. K. Anderson, owner of the building on which the company holds a long-term lease and option to purchase, is undertaking a $7,000 addition to the building, which was once the old Corona pen factory. Ludtke and Story, the contractors in charge of the construction, will start work tomorrow.

Removal of the Chicago studios here is expected to take place within a year or less.

Samples of the Pickard ware were "o. k. ed" by the trade last week, and the company at the same time was given the biggest block of orders it has yet received—orders for six months ahead.

Moving of the Chicago plant here is expected to give it an Antioch payroll of from $100,000 to $150,000 annually.

Founded in 1898

The company was founded in 1898 at Edgerton, Wis., by the late Wilder A. Pickard. In 1904 it was moved to the location of the present decorating studios at 4853 Ravenswood, Chicago.

Originally, Pickard's specialized in china decorating, for which imported ware was used. Several years ago experiments in the manufacture of china were begun, and the laboratory at Antioch was opened early in 1937.

The company's entire output is sold through exclusive contracts with such firms as Marshall Field and similar establishments in various parts of the country.

H. A. Pickard is president and manager of the company.

Rotnour Company Opens Season at Lake Villa

Stage Productions Will Be Given in Gymnasium This Winter

The J. B. Rotnour players, just back from their regular summer northern tour, have opened a series of plays in the school gymnasium at Lake Villa. They will appear there every Monday evening.

Some new members have been added to the troupe this season. "J. B." announcements, including Miss Octavia Powell, an accomplished violinist and night club entertainer. Robert Bailey will be remembered as leading man. The old favorites of other seasons have been retained.

A comedy, "That Family Next Door," is to be presented next Monday evening.

Merchants Are Sponsors

The company is being sponsored in its Monday evening appearances by Lake Villa business men and merchants whose names will be found in advertising columns of this issue of the Antioch News. Merchant free tickets may be secured from these firms.

A special comedy presentation between acts Monday will feature Miss Powell and her violin. Other vaudeville specialties will be given by Bob Gentry, Jimmy Parsons and others.

The doors will open at 7:30 o'clock and the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

"J. B." and his players have successfully staged their production in Antioch for a number of years, and it is expected that their Lake Villa appearances will be equally well received.

SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED REGISTRATION DAY, OCT. 16

Antioch Grade school and rural schools in the Antioch area will be closed on draft registration day, Oct. 16, in accordance with a request made by County Superintendent W. C. Petty. While no definite action has been taken by the board of Antioch High school, a similar request has been received there, and it is expected that the high school will probably also be closed.

The draft registrations will be made at the schools, and in many cases the teachers are being asked to assist with this work. The sending out of a letter to Illinois county superintendents asking their co-operation was one of the last official acts of the late Gov. Henry Horner.

Attend Gov. Horner Funeral Rites Tuesday

Earl Somerville of Antioch, who is employed at the state hospital in Kankakee, was among those attending the military funeral rites for the late Governor Henry Horner in Chicago Tuesday.

Sen. Ray Paddock, Rep. Nick Keller of Waukegan and Rep. Harold D. Kelsey of Barrington were present at the services.

Interment was in Mount Mary cemetery following the services at 11 a. m.

Horner died in his Winnetka home early Sunday morning. The body lay in state in the flag-draped auditorium of the 122nd field artillery armory from noon Monday until shortly before the funeral.

The bronze coffin was banked high with ferns; four soldiers of the 33rd division formed the guard of honor. At one end of the vast hall was a large American flag; along the sides dipped black and purple drapes; the colors of every national guard unit in the city were displayed as a token of respect.

Letter Writing Week

National Letter Writing Week, first observed in 1938, is again being observed this year. Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk has been notified by Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general. Letter Writing week opened Oct. 6 and will continue through Oct. 12.

The Case of Elliott Roosevelt

Thousands of America's loyal young men next Wednesday will comply with the selective service act by registering for compulsory military service. Thereby they will be observing the letter and spirit of the law.

They will, however, remember the scandalous appointment of 30-year old Elliott Roosevelt, the Third Term Candidate's second son, to a Captaincy in the procurement division of the air corps of the Army on the eve of the registration for conscription. Elliott Roosevelt has never had a day of military service, and he has no particular qualification to be a Captain in the Army. He cannot fly—a bird without wings. He did not apply to any recruiting office, to be placed where his country needed him, as other mother's sons will have to do. Oh no, the head of the army air corps, Gen. Arnold, himself, assigned him from the "specialists reserve" to a job in procurement—in other words, a purchasing agent to buy supplies. He will draw $200 a month, plus allowances that may be as high as $116 a month. Other boys will register with the prospect of receiving $30 a month, not $200.

Elliott's father, the President, told the governors of the states that the selective service law should be administered "fairly and without fear or favor." Elliott might have served in some "specialty"—but that would have been decided not by him but by his qualifications in fair competition with all other boys, as would the place and condition of his service. He would have been honored by having to wear the uniform and not "privileged," as is reported in the press, to wear civilian clothes.

Elliott's act "is doubly despicable," writes Gen. Hugh Johnson, "because, for every boy who escapes his proper turn, another mother's son is pushed up before his turn to serve and perhaps to die."

Local boys also will recall that, without a day of military training James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, had himself made a Lieutenant-Colonel of Marines several years ago; and that Franklin D., Jr., holds an Ensign's commission in the Naval reserve. Yet—the president says the draft is to be administered—"fairly, and without fear or favor."

Of course, the sons of ordinary folk in the dictator countries should not expect to be captains. They are supposed to be privates—the cannon fodder of war, single-handedly brought about by the dictator. Apparently the Roosevelts already regard themselves as entitled to the prerogatives of royalty, for three of the sons hold commissions.

The Case of Wendell Willkie

In the World War, Wendell Willkie enlisted as a private. He spent four months in intensive training before he was commissioned as a lieutenant. He spent another year in training camps in this country and was then sent to France where he served under fire. Just before the Armistice he was recommended for promotion to a Captaincy. All of his commanders approved the recommendation but he never became a Captain because when the war ended President Wilson suspended all pending promotions. But Elliott Roosevelt, without spending a day in a training camp, is appointed a Captain.

Is it any wonder that the case of Elliott Roosevelt has made the blood of every World War veteran boil? Such things do not happen in a democracy. They do happen in countries ruled by men lustful for "power"—indispensable men who seek to perpetuate themselves in office.

Cerro Gordo won the honor by a score of 920.1 while the Antioch team crowded them with a score of 919.225.

The story opens in the Saunders' living room on a Sunday evening just after the family has finished a buffet supper. Mrs. Saunders is endeavoring to revive the old custom of family group singing. Naturally Roberta, a senior in high school, her twin brother, Bob, Gray, another son who sings, a junior in school and Chucky, the cut-up of the family, all become involved in the argument that arises over this custom. Gramps and Grandma lend a sprightly touch to the family circle, never failing to get into the middle of things. Since Gramps played football in his day, Dad in his day and now

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday October 6.

The Golden Text was, "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else" (Deuteronomy 4:39.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my light and my salvation whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall be afraid? Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident." (Psalms 27:1,3.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding even in a degree, of the divine All-power destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path—the path which lead to the house built without hand 'eternal in the heavens.' Human law has no legitimate mandate and no kingdom. Love is enthroned." (1:454.)

ANCIENT TREES STILL MARK INDIAN ROUTES, SPEAKER TELLS CLUB

Long before the white man appeared on this continent, the Indians had their own commerce and industries, their own trade routes, and their own network of woodland and prairie trails. To mark these trails through the forest areas they had their own system of sign posts—the "trail trees" that pointed the way to springs, hunting and fishing grounds, camp sites and lake shore "work shops" where arrow heads and tools were fashioned.

Many such "trail trees" may still be found in Lake county, Mrs. R. R. Dunn of Waukegan told members of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club in their first meeting of the year, a 6:15 o'clock dinner held in the Ball hotel Monday evening.

Mrs. Dunn, who is employed in the probate clerk's office in Waukegan, has made it a hobby to search out these old trail trees and other Indian markers and relics, and photograph them.

The Indian trails, she explained in her talk, were of three types:

The "war trails"; hunting trails, such as those along the Skokie, and migratory trails—for the early Indian liked to "go places" quite as well as the modern auto driver. Five such trails crossed what is now Lake county from north to south, and others extended from east to west. The north-south routes included that along the "great divide" between the Great Lakes and Mississippi waters, along the Skokie; a second route roughly parallel to the Green Bay road; and other still closer to the Lake Michigan shore, approximately where Sheridan road is now, and two others further west.

Indian trail trees in the lakes region include one at the Renchan resort on Round lake, said Mrs. Dunn. Others may be found near many of the principal highways and even in the towns, as in Waukegan, Highland Park and Evanston. The trunk or principal branches of these trees were bent when they were young and tied so as to point in the direction in which the trail led. Mrs. Dunn told her audience. One of the photographs she showed was of a tree which had branches arranged to indicate two directions.

Covers for 30 were laid at the dinner. A brief business session in charge of the new president, Mrs. Vera Rentner, preceded the talk.

BILLY DOOPER HONORED ON SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Billy Dooper was feted on his sixth birthday anniversary with a party. A huge birthday cake adorned the table for a centerpiece. Billy received many nice gifts. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Agricola, Mr. and Mrs. William Haddican and son, Robert, of Kenosha, Mr. and Mrs. William Dorsey and Marcella, Miss Mary Dorsey, George Nelson and Henry Dooper.

Woman's Club Hears Sketches of "Old South"

"Songs and Character Sketches of the Old South" as presented by Neuman Leighton, Chicago, delighted members of the Antioch Woman's club at the 1 o'clock luncheon with which they opened their year Wednesday afternoon.

The luncheon was served in Hoven's restaurant at Our Country club, after which the women adjourned to the lounge of the clubhouse proper for the talk.

Accompanied by a pianist whom he brought with him from Chicago, Mr. Leighton sang many of the old negro spirituals and folk songs. These, as well as the character sketches and readings from negro folk lore, were greatly enjoyed by the 36 Woman's club members present.

Mr. Leighton apparently has spent some of his earlier life in the south, and he drew on some of his own observations for his comments on the negro's contribution to American life.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. George W. Anzinger, program chairman, to whom the program was turned over by the president, Mrs. Thomas F. Hunt.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 21, with Kenneth B. McAfee speaking on "Our Young Republic."

TUESDAY, OCT. 15 — 8:15 P. M.

(Sponsored by Regional Committee of the Baha'is of the United States and Canada)

The Baha'i Faith (pronounced Ba-hi-ee) is a Universal Religion and its teachings do not deviate a hair-breadth from the truths enshrined in former religions, nor does the weight of its message detract one particle from the influence they exert or the loyalty they inspire. Far from aiming at the over-throw of the spiritual foundation of the world's religious systems, its avowed, its unalterable purpose is to widen their basis, to restate their fundamentals, to reconcile their aims, to reinvigorate their life, to demonstrate their oneness, to restore the pristine purity of their teachings, to co-ordinate their functions and to assist in the realization of their highest aspirations. As a close observer has graphically expressed it, these divinely-revealed religions "are doomed not to die, but to be reborn." Does not the child succumb in the youth and the youth in the man; yet neither child nor youth perishes?

ANTIOCH DELEGATES ATTEND CO., DIST. P. T. A. MEETINGS

Ways in which delegates to the Lake County P. T. A. council can help to build up their local units were discussed at the council's first meeting of the year, held last evening in Gurnee with Mrs. Elmer Hunter of Antioch presiding.

Studies in parliamentary procedure; reports of committees; a message from the district director, Mrs. Ziegler, and brief remarks by the county superintendent, W. C. Petty of Antioch, also occupied the attention of the gathering.

Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Joseph Patrovsky, president of the local Grade P. T. A., Mrs. Irving Elms and Mrs. Otto S. Klass attended District No. 26's P. T. A. conference at Cary on Oct. 3.

A round table discussion on "Ways and Means of P. T. A. Financing" was conducted by Mrs. Hunter at the conference, which opened with a luncheon in the Cary Country club.

Other discussion leaders and speakers included Mrs. Bixby, Parent Teacher magazine chairman; Mrs. Enevold, council advisor of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Gleichman, first state vice-president; Mrs. Koch, rural school service chairman; Mrs. Ethel Coe, McHenry county superintendent, and Dean Ewing, principal of the Crystal Lake School.

PREGENZER WINS LAKE CHANNEL DREDGING JOB

The $35,564 job of dredging four channels connecting lakes here has been awarded to Ray Pregenzer of Antioch, the Illinois division of waterways has announced.

The job includes the following items:

1. Dredging Lake Marie to Channel Lake.
2. Removal of abutment and rubble walls north of route 173.
3. Dredging Channel Lake to Lake Catherine.
4. Dredging channel from Petite Lake to Bluff Lake.

The total amount of material to be removed is 110,278 cubic yards. The dredging of a channel from Petite Lake to Bluff Lake is by far the largest, with the total amount of earth to be removed estimated at 77,000 cubic yards. About 29,200 cubic yards will have to be removed from the channel from Lake Marie to Channel Lake.

Pregenzer's nearest competitor in bidding was the Gunyon Dredging Co., Elkhorn, Wis., with a bid of $38,226. The state had previously rejected as too high Pregenzer's bid of $18,364 on channels connecting Channel Lake, Lake Catherine and Lake Marie. The bid accepted for this portion of the work totals $13,000.

This portion of the work will remove about 33,200 cubic yards of earth and provide a bottom width of 10 feet and depth of five feet below the boating stage.

It wasn't there.

Lucas was in a dither until the Coffeyville Journal, a Republican daily, got its late afternoon mail. Consign-

The Treasure Chest

(Compiled by A. Chancel)
Locksley Hall

"Then I dipped into the future as far as human eye could see; Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be. Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails, Pilots of the purple twilight dropping down with costly bales; Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew From the nation's airy navies grappling in the central blue; Till the war-drums throbbed no longer and the battle flags were furled In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the World."

There the common sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe, And the kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law. Yet I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs, And the thoughts of men are widen'd with the process of the suns, Earth at last a warless world, a single race, a single tongue—

I have seen her far away—for is not earth as yet so young? Every tiger madness muzzled, every serpent passion kill'd, Every grim raving a garden, every blazing desert till'd, Robed in universal harvest up to either pole she smiles, Universal ocean softly washing all her warless isles.

Only that which made us to be mightier by and by— Set the sphere of all the boundless heavens within the human eye; Sent the shadow of Himself, the boundless thro' the human soul, Boundless inward, in the atom, boundless outward in the Whole."

—Tennyson.

Here's a Fish Story— About the Big Ones That Went Astray

"There's something fishy about this," said the housewife who was donating her services as "chef" for the fish dinner to which Dr. D. N. Deering treated the Antioch fire department following its annual election meeting.

The dinner was to be Tuesday evening, and here it was Tuesday afternoon, and here were five little fish—total weight probably not quite five pounds—and there were 35 or 40 husky firemen with hearty appetites coming to the dinner. And "Doc" ought to know his dietetics better than that . . . she hoped.

A little investigation cleared up the mystery. It seems the doctor had caught some nice, big lake trout—ten and twelve pounders—on a recent trip up north. Fish amply fitted to be the pieces de resistance at even a firemen's spread. He had also caught some smaller fish, destined for family use. Through a misunderstanding, the two lots had been switched.

Thanks to the "chef's" sleuthing, they were hastily "unswitched," the right ones popped into the oven for baking—and everyone who was there agrees that the dinner was a grand success . . . and that "Doc's" fish don't—quite—get away.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Political Campaign Enters Final Weeks; Draft Registration Plans Completed; Hitler and Mussolini Hold War Council As Great Britain Continues to 'Hold Out'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

From an invasion base on the English channel coast, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering points his baton toward England as his aides look on. This is a rare photograph for very few pictures of the Nazi secret airfields along the channel pass through the German censor.

ginning his second week in the East he moved into New England.

Willkie, during the eastern tour, charged that the administration was pushing the nation "ever closer and closer to war." He said that given the chance, by being elected to the presidency, he would "clean out the unbelievers, and the bunk artists."

Democrats

Not campaigning and not talking politics, President Roosevelt made a tour of defense establishments in nearby Maryland. At the Aberdeen proving grounds he held his ears shut while big guns roared. He saw an exhibit of the new Garand rifle.

Meanwhile his vice presidential running mate, Henry A. Wallace, moved through the Southwest and into California. He laid stress on the Roosevelt Good Neighbor policy toward Latin America. He pleaded an audience in Albuquerque, N. M., by breaking into Spanish in the middle of his speech.

The Democratic campaign also got a boost from Sen. Robert M. LaFollette (Prog., Wis.). LaFollette, who fought some of the New Deal policies bitterly, turned in for a third term.

Roughhouse

Not all of Willkie's audiences were friendly. In several cities he was booed and in a few he was pelted with vegetables. This roughhouse reached its peak in Pontiac and Detroit, Mich. In the former city the G. O. P. standard bearer was the target for eggs. Mrs. Willkie was hit. In Detroit, as he passed one of the city's largest hotels, there was a rain of objects from windows. One woman dropped a five-pound wastebasket on the crowd beneath, seriously injuring a girl. The thrower turned out to be an employee of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. These incidents brought a rebuke from President Roosevelt, who called the conduct "reprehensible." He ordered the federal employee be separated from her job and suggested criminal prosecution be brought.

THE WAR: New Plans?

While there were some indications that the Nazi invasion plans for England had bogged down and while the German high command admitted the war would go into a second winter, an anxious world turned its eyes toward another Hitler-Mussolini war council as the dictators met at historic Brenner Pass for a discussion of future military and diplomatic adventure.

By spring, Berlin said, it was believed that effective founding of British cities and industries and "general hunger" would be on the side of Germany. It was said London will not be permitted to catch its breath.

Britain was doing some bombing on its own score, meanwhile. One raid over Berlin lasted more than five hours. But the most terrifying moments still were reserved for the channel ports, and again the combination of bombardment from the sky and long-range coastal guns in England made many of these harbors an extremely unhealthy place for habitation.

If Hitler calls off his channel blitzkrieg, many look for winter activity in the Balkans. Germany may make a concerted movement against Greece and Turkey while Mussolini throws his weight toward the Suez in Egypt.

Helping Hand?

Here is Warren Lee Pierson, manager of the U. S. Export-Import bank photographed on his arrival in Buenos Aires during his current tour of South American capitals. In an official capacity he is believed to be consolidating Pan-American relationships for the expected economic trade war between western hemisphere powers and the German-Italian-Japanese axis.

NEW ALLIANCE: Against U. S.

Under the eyes of 200 newspaper men from all parts of the world, in the vast gilded Hall of Ambassadors of the new German chancellery, Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini linked their fortunes of war to those of Japan. A 10-year agreement was signed by their representatives calling for a "new world order."

The treaty provided: 1. Europe should be the sphere of influence of Germany and Italy; 2. Asia should be the sphere of influence of Japan; 3. the trio would act as one if any should be attacked by a power not now involved in the present European war or the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

It looked as though two nations were being eyed, the United States and Soviet Russia. But another provision excepted Russia. There were hints of additional "secret" provisions, one calling for German and Italian fifth-column activity in Latin America, so that American influence would be activated in that direction and not in the Pacific.

Was the agreement aimed at the United States? To make sure that there would be no misunderstanding, German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop spoke up on that. He bluntly said it was. But there was some indication that Russia didn't like what transpired and didn't entirely believe they were out of range. Von Ribbentrop was scheduled to hurry to Moscow and allay suspicions. It was said authoritatively the agreement was an answer to America's sale of 50 destroyers to Britain.

In Washington

Secretary of State Hull told a press conference that "the announcement merely makes public a relationship which apparently has long existed." Washington, it appeared was not inclined to retreat before the new Axis.

President Roosevelt refused to admit that he knew the contents of the treaty in advance. It was significant, however, that 24 hours earlier he applied an embargo on scrap iron and oil to all nations outside the Western hemisphere except England. The embargo is effective October 16.

While Mr. Roosevelt denied he was considering credits for Great Britain, there was reason to believe the army soon would turn over a number of powerful "flying fortresses" to London.

TWO FAIRS: Closing Time

The "letter for posterity" deposited at the New York World's fair grounds and due to be opened in 5,000 years, was sealed in its 50-foot immortal well. The 7½-foot torpedo shaped cupuloy container is backed with symbols of civilization of the year 1940, including an alarm clock, tooth brush, seeds, books, motion picture film, plastics, fabrics, money, a woman's hat and micro film on which are more than 10,000,000 words and 1,000 pictures. The New York fair closes forever October 26.

The Golden Gate exposition in San Francisco harbor, which also opened two years ago, played its final performance to the largest crowd it ever attracted on a single day, 210,000. The 1940 attendance was 6,555,376.

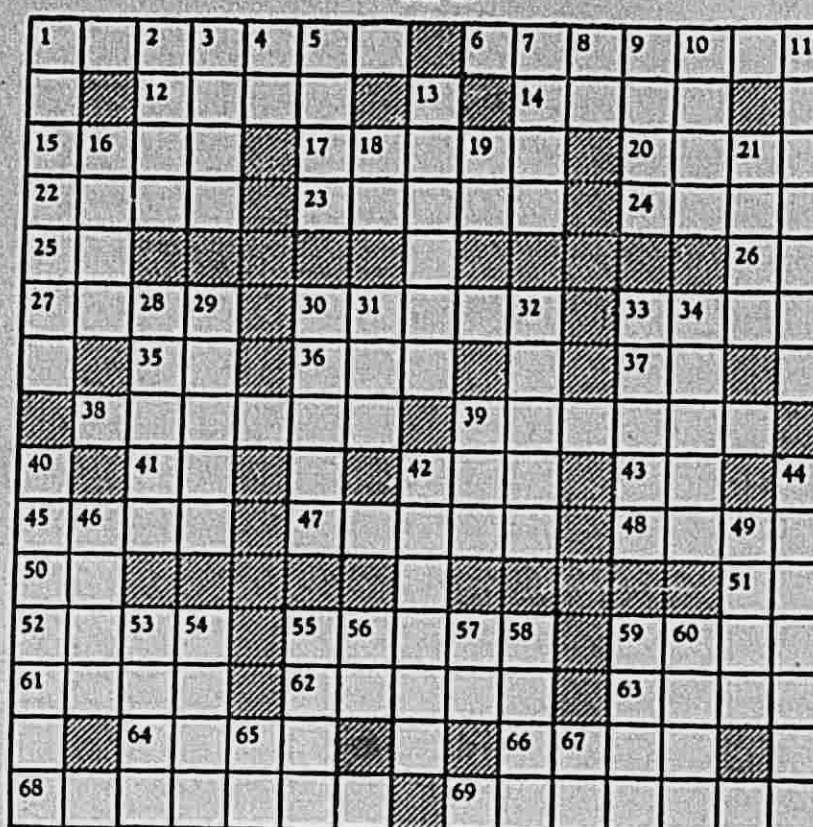

MISCELLANY:

Safety

Five hundred and six school children in Chicago marched slowly through the main streets to beat of muffled drums—each representing a ghost. The funeral file was preceded by a truck bearing two caskets and followed by a hearse. The pageant was produced by the Greater Chicago Safety council as a grim reminder that 506 pedestrians were killed in that city last year by automobiles.

Bob—the family arguments center around football, as well as singing.

To the school has come a young Indian from a reservation. The fellows take him in. He plays wonderful football, but in spite of this the girls snub him, all except Roberta, who feels that she is now in love for the first time.

Complications arise. Johnnie is having difficulties with his studies, which means no football games if he can't keep up in his grades; the last scene takes place in the principal's office, just at game time and you will be treated to all the thrills, heartbreaks, and good laughs that one meets with in the average family and in the average day at high school.

The play will be presented on Thursday, Oct. 31, and Friday, Nov. 1, by the following students:

AMUSEMENTS

Adrienne's Predictions Amaze Roosevelt Audience

One of the most unusual mental attractions of its kind on tour today is now appearing at the Roosevelt theatre in Kenosha, the second appearance of this world famed artist in the past several months.

Headlined throughout the theatrical world as "Adrienne" this marvel of the present age frankly predicts events of national and local interest in response to the questions put to her by the audiences and many of which have startled Kenosha's theatre goers.

During her last visit to the Roosevelt Theatre and many months prior to the actual happenings "Adrienne" predicted the Cincinnati Reds as the winner of the National League pennant, also predicted the winner and exact round of the Louis-Goldy fight, which took place during her last visit. Most notable of her predictions at that particular time was her announcement of the "drafting" of President Roosevelt for a third term, all of which have become actualities and much to the astonishment of the audiences who are now attending in capacity during her return engagement.

"Adrienne" appears in person each evening in conjunction with the regular scheduled two feature screen program.

Coach Stag Praises Film of Rockne's Life

A. A. Stag, dean of American football coaches, and Mrs. Stag spent a day as guests of Pat O'Brien, film star, and Lloyd Bacon, film director, on the football field of Loyola University of Los Angeles, where O'Brien and Bacon's picture, "Knute Rockne—All American" was being filmed. The picture, now completed, has its first showing Sunday at the Kenosha theatre in Kenosha.

The veteran coach from College of the Pacific, whose original football shift was adapted by Rockne into "the Notre Dame shift," and one of whose prize pupils, Jesse C. Harper, became Rockne's original football mentor at Notre Dame, told O'Brien and Bacon that they were doing "a remarkable work."

The famous visitor had been Knute Rockne's lifelong friend, having been associated with the Notre Dame idol on the Football Rules committee, the National Association of Football Coaches.

"Pat O'Brien looks and speaks so much like 'Rockne' that I could not believe the evidences of my own senses when I saw him in his makeup for this motion picture," Stag commented as he watched the fictitious Rockne guide a "Notre Dame" team made up largely of University of Southern California football squad members, through scrimmage plays against a rival eleven representing West Point, but composed in reality of players from University of California at Los Angeles.
